

Tiny Baby Kidnaped At Mankato, Minn., Returned Unharmd

NEW ULM, Minn. — (AP) — An 18-day old baby boy was found unharmd here today, 17 hours after he was kidnaped from his home in Mankato, 28 miles southwest of here.

A short time after he was found, the infant was restored to his mother, Mrs. Eugene Callahan, who was called here from her Mankato home.

Sobs To Police
Chief of Police Edward L. Larson said Mrs. Leonard Scheid, a childless woman in her middle 30's, had admitted taking the baby to replace one she lost four months ago through miscarriage.

The baby was found in Mrs. Scheid's apartment over a tavern in downtown New Ulm.

Chief Larson said he got his first tip from Mrs. Frances Pregler, a neighbor of Mrs. Scheid.

"I'll feel better if I tell someone about it,"

A short time later, Mrs. Scheid herself called police, sobbing, and asked that someone be sent over.

When she returned to her home yesterday afternoon from Mankato, however, she had told another neighbor who asked her where she got the baby, "Oh, I had it."

A police matron took care of the baby—who has not yet been named—until his mother arrived.

Faced With Pistol
Mrs. Callahan, 35, mother of six children, said that a strange woman who said she was pregnant, appeared at the Callahan home yesterday after 1 p. m. to seek advice on childbirth.

She chatted a few minutes with the visitor in the Callahan living room. Then the baby began to fuss, Mrs. Callahan went to the kitchen to prepare a bottle. While thus engaged she heard a shot.

Racing into the bedroom, the housewife was confronted with a pistol the woman held. Mrs. Callahan and her four-year-old son were forced into a closet. The intruder barred the door by placing a chair against the knob.

Twenty minutes later when Mrs. Callahan worked herself free, the blonde and the baby were gone.

He obviously loved his ship.

"I commanded that ship for three years and made 44 crossings of the Atlantic," he said.

"She was a very well built ship. She was an extremely solid ship. I had command of that ship for over three years and crossed the Atlantic many times, so I knew what she could take."

Judge Acquits Greasy Thumb

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate, which wanted to put him in jail, has lost to Jacob (Greasy Thumb) Guzzik, who didn't want to go.

"Greasy Thumb," veteran Chicago mobster, was acquitted by U. S. District Judge Edward A. Tamm late yesterday of charges growing out of his refusal to answer questions of the Senate crime investigating committee.

Guzzik's attitude distressed the committee. It recommended he be cited for contempt of Congress.

The Senate went along with the recommendation. So did a federal grand jury, which returned a five-count indictment.

But Judge Tamm, high official of the FBI before he went on the bench, ruled after listening to day-long arguments that Guzzik was within his legal rights.

He reached his conclusion "with some difficulty," the judge said, adding: "but the court feels we are committed to a government of laws, not of men."

He said a witness may refuse to answer if it may reasonably have a tendency to incriminate him. That cleared Guzzik.

London To Dublin Air Crash Kills 23

PEN-Y-GWYRDY, Wales — (AP) — Litter parties set out at dawn today to recover the bodies of 23 persons killed in the crash of an Irish airliner on a rugged Welsh mountain peak.

Two of the dead were believed to be Americans, but their identities were not definitely established.

The two-engine plane, flying from London to Dublin, nose-dived into 2,860-foot Moel Slabod peak in the Snowdonia range last night during a hail storm.

Father Turns Down Medal From Truman For Two Dead Sons

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A Washington father today refused to accept the medal of honor awarded his son for gallantry in Korea because, he was quoted as saying, President Truman is not "worthy to confer" it.

It was the first time in history that anyone has turned down the nation's highest military award.

The father is Halsey McGovern, of the American Transit Association and a traffic consultant to the Interstate Commerce Commission. He also rejected the silver star, which was bestowed on another of his sons.

Both were killed in action in Korea.

Crowd Cheers Heroic Skipper Of Enterprise

By EDWARD CURTIS
FALMOUTH, Eng. — (AP) — Safe ashore, Capt. Kurt Carlsen told the story today of his monumental fight with the raging Atlantic—a two weeks battle against wind, waves and cold.

He told a cheering crowd of thousands: "I deeply regret that I was not in position to bring the Enterprise back with me."

From the deck of the rescue tug Turmoil he watched the death throes of the 6,711-ton Flying Enterprise yesterday, minutes after he leaped into the water from the dying freighter. She went down in 40 fathoms (250 feet) of water, 37 miles off this fishing port, after a thrashing, titanic battle with the sea.

Last Gale Too Much
"That really hurt me, quite a lot," Carlsen said.

It was that "last gale" which struck the stout ship its death blow, the courageous, 37-year-old skipper told a packed news conference.

"The last few days' gale was too much," he said. "There were high seas going and they were too much."

His worst moment in the long ordeal, he said, "was the moment that the Flying Enterprise disappeared."

He obviously loved his ship.

"I commanded that ship for three years and made 44 crossings of the Atlantic," he said.

"She was a very well built ship. She was an extremely solid ship. I had command of that ship for over three years and crossed the Atlantic many times, so I knew what she could take."

Vice Crusader's Home Bombed In Alabama

By REX THOMAS
PHENIX CITY, Ala. — (AP) — A hurriedly summoned grand jury was called today to investigate the bomb explosion that wrecked the home of a vice crusader who helped clean up this once-rowdy playground of gamblers.

Circuit Judge J. B. Hicks directed the jurors to meet at 10 a. m. (E.S.T.) less than 60 hours after a dynamite charge ripped apart Hugh Bentley's residence on the outskirts of Phenix City before dawn Wednesday.

Bentley, 42-year-old sporting goods dealer, was away from home when the blast shattered the five-room frame dwelling, but his wife, two sons and a nephew were asleep in the house. They escaped serious injury.

Meanwhile, there was no evidence of the wide-open gambling that in months past made Phenix City a favorite night spot for frolicking soldiers from Fort Benning, just across the Chattahoochee River.

"They're closed down tight as a tick over here," said State Investigator J. V. Kitchens, "and apparently have been for some time."

It was a year ago that Bentley, an anti-gambling campaigner for more than a decade, launched the clean-up drive that paid off when Gov. Gordon Persons took a hand.

General UN Assembly Sets Up 12-Nation Disarmament Study

PARIS — (AP) — The United Nations general assembly voted 42 to 5 today to set up a 12-nation disarmament commission. The body will study step-by-step reductions in arms and armed forces, climaxing at some future date with prohibition of atomic weapons.

The western big three powers—the U. S., Britain and France—sponsored the measure, the major achievement of the sixth U. N. assembly here.

Bottlenecks Broken, But U. S. Tank-Jet Output Still Lags

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States is breaking bottlenecks in jet fighter and tank production but Defense Secretary Robert Lovett estimates it will take a long time to catch up on the schedules set for big scale deliveries.

The defense chief expressed this view in testifying before the Senate armed services committee at a closed door session yesterday.

Lovett's statement, taken together with unofficial estimates of American and Russian production, pointed up President Truman's report to Congress on Wednesday that the Soviet Union "is still producing more war planes than the free nations."

The most recent unofficial estimate here is that Russia is producing about 15,000 planes a year. Of these 12,000 are first line combat aircraft with about 70 per cent of them jet fighters.

Against this is the recent estimate of Adm. Dewitt C. Ramsey (ret.), president of Aircraft Industries Association, that total production of American planes of all types may reach about 1,500 per month by late 1952. That would be at the rate of 18,000 a year and some industry men believe this figure may be a little too high.

The industry blames the lag in plane production first on what it says is the attempt to impose a multi-billion dollar armament program on a booming civilian economy. Industry leaders say the primary reason for lagging production has been a shortage of engines and component parts traced to scarcities of machine tools and alloy metals needed in jet engine manufacture.

The Army is producing an undisclosed number of light, medium and heavy tanks.

But it has run into production troubles in at least one type, the T-41 light tank. It had accepted, up to a month ago, about one-third of the light tanks which had been completed. The others were being held back until changes could be made in the mechanism which turns the tank turret.

Williams' Legislative Program Scorned As Burden On Taxpayers

LANSING — (AP) — The Republican legislature listened to Governor Williams' legislative program for an hour and a half yesterday—then reached for its war club.

"The longest address we have ever heard," said Senator Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing). "An appeal to every group and class in the state. A highly political document. His approach to a balanced budget is fallacious. Even with his corporation tax state expenses would exceed income if we accepted his program."

Not Many Pleased
Speaker of the House Victor A. Knox (Sault Ste. Marie) remarked: "Ninety-five per cent of the message was a review of what the legislature has been doing for the past 10 or 15 years."

Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale), the funnel through which all tax legislation must pass, called Williams' program "The biggest spending program ever placed before us—all designed to put a greater burden on all taxpayers. He would give everybody something. I thought Christmas only came once a year."

Rep. L. G. Christman (R-Ann Arbor) asserted Williams "was inconsistent in seeking more federal aid on one hand and advocating stronger state government on the other—but in all it was a good review."

Generally, the Senate was violently critical of Williams' 68-point program which took an hour and a half to deliver. Some House Republicans were pleased with the governor's message, but they

No Trace Of 45 Men From Sinking Vessel Drifting In Pacific

SEATTLE — (AP) — A wide-region sea-air search for the freighter Pennsylvania and the 45 men who abandoned her wallowing hulk Wednesday was underway today over a large North Pacific area.

Three ships continued to comb the area and seven airplanes were alerted to participate in the second day of searching the windy, surging ocean spot where the men last were heard from.

Canadian and U. S. ships and planes yesterday conducted a day-long criss-cross search of the region 465 miles northwest of Vancouver Island where the broken and water-logged freighter last reported being in difficulty.

They found nothing. Not even a scrap of wreckage, a drifting bit of clothing or a life preserver. Just wind and waves and snow flurries.

The surface search for the four lifeboats from the Pennsylvania kept up all night as ships crews maintained a ceaseless vigil, searching the wild swells and troughs with the aid of lights and flares. Airplanes were forced to return to their bases at nightfall.

Cmdr. R. M. Dudley, chief pilot of a Coast Guard flying boat, returned to Seattle and reported simply:

"We didn't see a thing. Not a trace."

He said a storm was still raging and surface swells were so great his plane would have been torn to pieces had it been forced to sit down.

The flyers said they felt little hope that the 7,800 ton Victory Ship was still afloat.

Quiz Given 16 For Liquor Job

LANSING — (AP) — The 16 best qualified candidates for the job of director of the state liquor control commission were undergoing oral examinations today by a panel of four Detroit businessmen.

The 16 were selected by the state civil service commission from a total of 175 applicants for the job, which pays between $10,656 and $12,576 annually.

The examining board will submit the names of the three top candidates to the state liquor control commission, which will make its appointment from the list.

The job becomes vacant when General Louis A. Kunzig, the present director, retires at the end of the month.

The businessmen quizzing the applicants, all from Detroit, are Rye Buell, controller of the R. H. Flye Co.; C. F. McCaffery, personnel director of the Kroger Co.; William H. Hart, former president of the C. F. Smith Co., and Charles Larson, executive vice-president of the Cunningham Drug Co.

Los Angeles Man, 101, Holds Vote For Taft

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Now that he has been declared legally competent, John Michael Haggerty, 101, can go to the polls next election and "Vote for Taft and Warren."

The judge complimented Haggerty on his physical appearance in superior court yesterday. The centenarian attributed it to abstinence from coffee, tea and hard liquor. He said he voted for President William Howard Taft and wants to cast a ballot for his son.

Haggerty was adjudged incompetent in 1934, but his niece and guardian certified that he is now capable of handling his own affairs.

Police Want Raise

DETROIT — (AP) — Full page ads by the Detroit Police Officers' association urged the public today to apply pressure on city government to obtain "livable" wage increases for an "underpaid and undermanned police department."

The ads said that policemen will "succumb to temptation of graft" as long as "they are subject to despondency about economic pressure."

Ticklish Truce Issues Avoided By Communists

Airfield Building In Korea Denied

By OLEN CLEMENTS
MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Allied truce negotiators handed the Reds a virtual ultimatum today. They demanded an explanation of an alleged contradiction in the Communists' announced stand on construction of airfields during an armistice.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner said negotiations for supervising a Korean truce could not continue until the Reds explain the apparent discrepancy.

Chinese Shifty
Turner said the Reds last month announced they planned to build and repair airfields while a truce was in force, but denied yesterday that this is their intention.

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang insisted that the Communist position never has changed and declared:

"You will never get a satisfactory answer to your unreasonable demands."

The truce subcommittee met for only 34 minutes. The subcommittee on prisoner exchange adjourned after four hours and 20 minutes. Both will meet again at 11 a. m. Saturday (9 p. m. EST Friday) at Panmunjom.

Treaties Given Push In Senate

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Strong bi-partisan support pointed today toward early Senate approval of the Japanese peace treaty and of the admission of Greece and Turkey to the North Atlantic treaty organization.

The peace treaty with Japan, signed at San Francisco last Sept. 8, will be among the first items of business considered by the Senate foreign relations committee, chairman Connally (D-Tex) said.

He said the protocol to the North Atlantic pact to bring Greece and Turkey into partnership with the western Allies for defense against Communist aggression also will receive early consideration.

Both agreements were sent to the Senate yesterday by President Truman with a recommendation that they be ratified.

The foreign relations committee may decide next week when to start hearings on them. Connally predicted they would be approved and the top ranking Republican member of the committee, Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, said he was all for them.

Four Senators Backing Seaway

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) joined with three other Republican senators to urge that the United States go along with Canada in building the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Ferguson, along with Senators Aiken (Vt.), Thye (Minn.) and Wiley (Wis.) praised Canada for deciding to go ahead on her own to building the seaway.

Terming Canada "foresighted," Ferguson told the Senate:

"I cannot see, however, how a country like the United States can meekly allow a forfeiture of responsibility and control over this vital avenue of commerce into the very heart of the continent."

Thye said Canada planned to bring a 27-foot channel only into Lake Erie. This would leave 21-foot channels upbound and 25-foot downbound into Lakes Huron, Superior and Michigan.

The Minnesota senator said, "this means unless we proceed to invest an additional 80 or 90 million dollars for the deepening of these channels, all the states west of Lake Erie will fail to obtain the full benefit of the seaway."

Sidewalk Plow Here, But You'll Need Shovel, Too

The city of Escanaba has received its new $5,000 sidewalk plow—but don't throw away your snow shovels. You'll need them anyway.

Because of sidewalk unevenness it will be necessary to adjust the plow blade about one-inch above the concrete, which will mean that walks will not be completely bare, explained City Engineer Loren Jenkins.

If you want the snow removed right down to the pavement, your snow shovel will do the trick—and with less effort because most of the snow will have been pushed aside by the V-blade of the plow.

Out In Next Storm

It will take a few days to make the necessary adjustments on the tractor plow and to train a driver in its operation.

But the sidewalk plow will be in use after the next heavy snow storm, assisting Escanaba residents dig themselves out of the drifts.

The plow is mounted on the front of a tractor which moves along on large rubber-tired wheels so that sidewalks will not be damaged. The tractor is four-wheeled drive.

100 Miles Of Sidewalk

Because it is a V-type plow, the best for clearing residential sidewalks, the tractor plow cannot be used on Ludington street's wide sidewalks. In the business sections a blade plow that would push the snow to the curb for loading would be required.

There are 100 miles of sidewalks in Escanaba. The plow will travel at an average speed of about three miles an hour. Thus it will take about three days to plow all of the sidewalks in the city.

Cross-walks will require special attention that consumes additional time.

Householders, therefore, will have their front walks cleared but wielding the old hand shovel will still be necessary.

Guild Comedy Wins Applause

A small but hearty audience audibly appreciated last night's New York Drama Guild presentation of John Van Druten's mature prize-winning comedy, "The Voice of the Turtle." The play was sponsored here by the Escanaba Lions club.

The rather large number of empty seats did not apparently quell the enthusiasm of the playgoers for the adult and deftly written story of a weekend in the lives of three ordinary people.

The plot is neither novel nor suspenseful but is handled with wit, wisdom and enormous craftsmanship by one of the top notch playwrights in the country today. It is the story of a young actress who struggles vainly against her growing love for a soldier on a weekend pass who finds at the last minute that his date with her friend has been broken.

A Convincing Cast

The dialogue is as shiny and enchanting as the spring day signified in the title as the happy time of acknowledged love when "the winter is past . . . the time of the singing of the birds is come and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land."

Enacting their roles with polish, competence and unerring technique, the trio of players comprising the entire cast were consistently convincing. Elizabeth Frohling portrayed the naive heroine with charm and feeling and as the soldier, Wendell Mayes acted like a down-to-earth soldier and not like a serviceman stationed at the Waldorf-Astoria. But to Helen McCall, the actress friend of the heroine who jilts the soldier for a Navy lieutenant, commander go highest honors for her skillful portrayal of a brassy and impudent girl whose distrust of her face makes her rely on her figure.

FIRE MARSHALL IS BURNING—Capt. John Degenkolb of the California State Fire Marshall's office, Los Angeles, steps back from the intense heat of flames consuming a knit rayon sweater just 15 seconds after he applied a match to it. Fire authorities are holding over 300 of the sweaters, being sold by itinerant peddlers, after at least four persons were burned when their sweaters flared.

Leukemia Victim, 6, Dies After Her Party

ANTIOCH, Calif. (AP)—Little Dixie Kline died in her sleep two days after her sixth birthday party at which was served the watermelon she so passionately desired.

The tiny leukemia victim awoke yesterday, remembering her party. Her voice could hardly be heard as she asked if she might have some more watermelon. But she was too weak to take more than a few drops of the liquid of melons sent by sympathetic strangers who had heard of her dying wish.

Increase Shown In Youth Crime

The year-end jail report of the office of Delta County Sheriff William E. Miron shows that crime increased among young people of the under-21 age group, with 81 offenders arrested in 1951 compared to last year's 49.

The report also indicates that almost 100 more law violators were confined in 1951 than in the previous year. Total number of prisoners held was 426.

Of these, 156 were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct. There were 21 breaking and entering cases compared to last year's 7 such offenses. Generally, there were more arrests made in every category of violation than in 1950.

Most of the violators were in the 21 to 30 age group (98 of these) although the greatest increase over last year's figure was in the under-21 group. A total of 86 prisoners between the ages of 40 and 50 were held during 1951. Other age groups and the number of persons in them arrested: 30 to 40—61; 50 to 60—45; and 60 and over—28.

Some of the other figures in the 1951 report disclosed by Sheriff Miron are: accidents investigated, 43; deaths in accidents, 2; drownings, 5; drunken driving arrests, 36; reckless driving, 10; conservation violations, 20; auto larceny, 6; motor law violations, 19; and prisoners taken to Marquette State Prison, 7.

One of the activities of the sheriff's office which didn't come up to last year's figure was the issuing of automobile operator's licenses. The number awarded in 1951 was 1,954 whereas 1950 saw 2,552 persons receive their driver's licenses at the sheriff's office.

AUTOMOTIVE HINT

Many motorists make it a point to have their cars checked up in the spring. This is a very good plan, because winter usage is hard on the mechanism of an automobile.

VICIOUS COMMUNITY
Prairie dogs frequently share their burrows with owls, weasels, and rattlesnakes, but this does not indicate a happy family arrangement, for the visitors often eat the young prairie dogs and, although the prairie dogs eat only grass, they destroy the young owls and sometimes bury the rattlesnakes alive.

F. X. Bjorkquist Dies At Work

Francis X. Bjorkquist, 29, of 1352 S. Avers Ave., Chicago, former resident of Escanaba, dropped dead yesterday at 2 p. m. while at work at a Chicago concrete construction plant. No details were received by the family here.

The body will be brought to Escanaba and will be taken to the Alto Funeral Home. Arrangements for the services will be completed tomorrow.

Mr. Bjorkquist was born in Manitowish July 1, 1922. He was reared in Escanaba and attended St. Joseph's school. He served in the U. S. Army three years in the Aleutians. He was a member of St. Ann's church and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He moved to Chicago a year ago.

Surviving are his wife, who is the former Anna Marie Hebert, three sons, Vernon, Thomas and Francis Paul; his father, Walter Bjorkquist, Escanaba; two brothers, Lawrence of Detroit and Harold, Escanaba; and three sisters, Mrs. Francis P. Quinn, Gladstone; Mrs. Sam Fontecchio, who lives in Florida; and Geraldine, Escanaba.

Lt. Fred Thatcher Gets Distinguished Flying Cross Award

Lt. Fred S. Thatcher of the U. S. Air Force, Austin, Texas, has been awarded the distinguished flying cross and cited for "extraordinary achievement" while participating in the war in Korea. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Thatcher, 618 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba.

As leader of a group of four F84's, Lt. Thatcher attacked enemy troops and supply concentrations in the vicinity of Pyongyang, Korea, on May 30, 1951. It was his 94th mission of the war.

Lt. Thatcher was cited for his "great aggressiveness, skill, and determination" in reaching the target despite low visibility. Repeated attacks were made by the jets led by Lt. Thatcher in the face of intense automatic weapons fire.

Buildings containing troops and supplies of the enemy were destroyed.

Judge McDonald To Speak Here On Municipal Court

Municipal Court Judge John E. McDonald of Marquette will speak at 8 p. m. Monday in Escanaba city hall at a discussion session sponsored by the League of Women Voters. The public is invited to attend.

The League is sponsoring the meeting as part of its continuing program of education and information for its members. Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder is League president.

The study of municipal court by the League at its Monday meeting will feature the presentation of information by Judge McDonald, who will be introduced by Mrs. Victor Powers, in charge of Monday's program.

Currently in Escanaba there is a revival of interest in proposed establishment of municipal court. The Escanaba city council has informally discussed the subject. About six years ago the city council postponed action on proposals to submit the question to a vote of the people.

The city of Marquette established a municipal court last year and Judge McDonald is their first municipal court jurist.

All larger cities in the Upper Peninsula have municipal courts, some dating back more than 15 years.

Information concerning the present justice court system in Escanaba will be presented to the League of Women Voters by Mrs. John Nystrom, justice of the peace, and a member of the League.

Interested persons are invited to attend the meeting because of public interest in the municipal court system.

Laverne Karasti Deputy Treasurer

Laverne Karasti, Rapid River, has been appointed deputy county treasurer by Ann S. Villeneuve, treasurer of Delta county.

Miss Karasti, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Karasti of Rapid River, attended Cloverland Commercial College here and was the recipient of the Robert Miller memorial scholarship as an honor student at Rapid River high school.

She replaces Grace Taylor who is planning a winter vacation in the South but who will continue to assist the office of the county treasurer on a part-time basis.

Musicians Union Elects Officers

Loggers Seek Price Relief

Pulpwood producers from Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin will meet at the Ironwood Memorial Building at 1:30 p. m., Saturday afternoon, January 12th to study recent price ceilings established by the Office of Price Stabilization at Washington, D. C. It is expected that the pulpwood men will petition the OPS for higher prices under Section 11 of the recent ceiling price regulation 107, which pertains to ceilings for the three states.

Under the new regulations ceilings on pulpwood were reduced approximately $2.00 per cord in all species of timber. This was in sharp contrast to an increase of 35 per cent for mine timber authorized recently by OPS. Dealers and producers here cannot understand the price changes in wood products, it was stated.

Loggers state that they are unable to produce pulpwood for the established ceiling prices, due to increased stumpage prices, labor demands and added costs for equipment, supplies and insurance. The base period used by the OPS in establishing price ceilings was January and February of 1951, and marked increases in production costs since that period make it virtually impossible for the operators to continue in business.

Under the direction of the Timber Producers Association of Michigan and Wisconsin, sponsors of the meeting, a survey of production costs in Lake States area is being conducted. A special committee of representative producers from the area will be sent to Washington, to discuss the situation with OPS officials and to present figures which will substantiate price relief within the immediate future.

The meeting will be open to all timbermen in the region. All producers are asked to submit production cost statements during the session.

Members of the special pulpwood committee of the Timber Producers Association include: Tom Nordine, Bruce Crossing, Michigan, chairman; Ivan Bran-

Rehearsals Begun For Escanaba Ice Revue

Escanaba's thirteenth annual ice revue moved from the drawing board to the rehearsal stage this week and calls are out now for skating enthusiasts who want to participate in "the largest small town Ice Revue in the world," Ice Varieties of 1952.

This year's show will be presented on the nights of February 20 to 24 with a matinee performance on Sunday.

Under the sponsorship of the City Recreation Department, Ice Varieties, it was announced by Recreation Director Art Petersen, will be directed this year by Hildur Turnquist with staging and choreography by Jeanette LeCaplain. Both Mrs. Turnquist and Mrs. LeCaplain have been associated with greatly successful ice shows here in the past.

Ensemble numbers will be under the direction of Mrs. William Pearson and Mrs. Bill Anderson. Committees Selected

The first show rehearsal Tuesday night brought out the 10 to 12-year group. An initial practice session for the baby skaters, up to 7 years of age, is slated for Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at the indoor rink. Parents who wish their children of this age group to perform in the ice revue are requested to have the youngsters there at that time.

The committees and persons in charge of the various aspects of presenting the revue were announced today by General Chairman Art Petersen. These include:

Capt. Kurt Carlsen Has Taught World A Lesson In Raw Courage

THE death of the American freighter Flying Enterprise off the coast of England was the climax to one of the most thrilling stories of the sea.

The courageous fight of Capt. Kurt Carlsen to bring his battered ship to port is not at all dimmed by the failure to accomplish the mission. That the Flying Enterprise broke and sank beneath the waves served only to emphasize the heroic struggle of the doughty mariner to fulfill the traditions of the sea.

For many days Capt. Carlsen sat alone on the broken, listing hulk of his small freighter on the gale swept Atlantic. A lone figure against the raging sea, Capt. Carlsen reminded all of us of the raw courage with which men can combat the hostile forces of nature. In this fight he evoked every man's sympathies, and most important, every man's respect. He stuck by his ship when the cause seemed hopeless, when the odds were stacked against him. He nearly won and only a whim of fate blocked his victory.

The lesson of bravery that Capt. Carlsen has taught serves as an example to all of us to devote our skills to the maximum performance of duty. Even though Capt. Carlsen failed to get his battered ship into port, the terrific struggle he made to that end, the courage and devotion to duty that he displayed has earned the tributes of people throughout the world. He has provided a lesson that is more important than the salvage of his ship and its cargo.

It is characteristic of people to take the line of least resistance, the easy way out. Capt. Carlsen could have done that, too. When his ship was battered and breaking, no one would have blamed him if he had jumped with his crew to be rescued at sea. In fact, that's undoubtedly what most of us would have done.

But Capt. Carlsen was made of sterner stuff. He stuck it out against overwhelming odds and made a brilliant, courageous fight to bring his battered ship to port. He yielded only when the ship was in its death convulsion.

For that lesson in heroism, raw courage and devotion to duty, Capt. Kurt Carlsen has earned the appreciation of all who recognize and respect virtue.

Capitol Hill Inflation's Last Stronghold

THE lawmakers don't talk much about it when they're back home, but there's one front where they have done a bang-up job in halting inflation. That's in their own restaurants on Capitol Hill.

Through all the flurry of rising prices in the hectic postwar years, the legislators have guarded their five-cent cup of coffee as if it were the Holy Grail. They have behaved as if any assault on it were an attack on the sanctity of government itself. And in only slightly less degree, they have felt the same about the rest of their capitol menu.

Well, whatever else congressional immunity means, it no longer means protection for the lawmaker's cheap lunch. Starting now, the sacred cup of coffee costs a dime. And other staple items are up accordingly.

Yes, the congressman can mark it down at last on his calendar: Inflation began in 1952.

TWO-EDGED SWORD

(Christian Science Monitor)

Cynics in Washington who expected paternal Revenue Bureau to "blow over" find themselves still in the midst of a storm. They forgot that every taxpayer has a very direct interest in stopping frauds which add to his own tax bill. It has been estimated that honest citizens would save $2,000,000,000 a year if the cheating were stopped.

So far popular feeling has been aimed at officials. This is necessary and right. Effective exposure and prosecution of public servants who became instead the servants of tax dodgers is a first step in reform. Already moves are afoot to put tax collectors under civil service and assure reasonable pay for them. But the sword of reform is two-edged; it should be directed against those who give bribes as well as against those who take them.

For every corrupt official there is at least one corrupting citizen. Indeed, most of the cheating occurs in defiance of honest officials. And the number of citizens involved is shocking. In one recent year a survey showed errors in 14,000,000 income-tax returns, one-fourth of the total. Mistakes in complicated forms are understandable, but honest mistakes would be expected to divide equally. Instead, roughly 12,500,000 favored the taxpayer!

You can't be polite these days without someone wondering what you want.

Time For Reds In Korea To Yield

IT has been some time since Communist negotiators at Panmunjom have offered a significant concession, or in fact any proposal at all.

In recent meetings, the United Nations conferees have been doing all the conceding, almost to the point of endangering the Allies' future military security on the Korean peninsula. This has been done in the interest of indicating our firm desire to reach a settlement, to prevent the talks from bogging down.

For example, we have abandoned our demand for aerial inspection over North Korea during an armistice period, and have agreed to limit troop rotation (the Reds wanted it halted altogether).

But if these concessions are not to be matched by similar yielding on the Communist side, there can be little hope of further significant progress in the truce parleys. As one UN negotiator stated, we have not come to Panmunjom to arrange for the destruction of our forces.

The Reds are stalling, clearly awaiting new instructions from higher authority—possibly Moscow. Meanwhile they fill the void with insulting epithets.

Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky's suggestion that the UN Security Council try to help bring the talks to successful conclusion may provide one key to the delay. The Communists may have decided they have gained all the advantage they can at Panmunjom. They may feel that future advances depend upon transferring the negotiations to the larger political arena.

If this is their hope, the responses of top Western officials make it evident they are doomed to disappointment. We have no intention of giving the Reds a chance to mix broad political questions with the specific military issues under negotiation in Korea. Nor do we intend to throw them into the Security Council where Russia can veto any solution not satisfactory to her.

On the other hand, the Reds' aim may be simpler. Having seen what striking concessions we have already offered in an effort to keep the talks moving toward settlement, they may be convinced that continued stalling and stubbornness will push Washington to yield new ground.

But we declared on announcing our most recent concessions that these constituted our "final" offer. On this proposition we should stand. We have yielded enough. It is the Communists' turn to concede. If they do not, it will then become apparent that, whatever their objectives earlier in the talks, they no longer want a real truce.

The major point on which they must yield is their insistence on the right to build up military airfields in North Korea during an armistice. This is utterly incompatible with peaceful aims and cannot be defended legitimately—certainly not on the flimsy pretext that to deny them this right amounts to "interference in North Korea's internal affairs."

In the past the Reds have from time to time conceded just enough to keep alive the belief they really wanted an armistice. This could have been a ruse, designed to lull us to sleep while they prepared for a big spring offensive. If it was not, the moment has come for the Communists to demonstrate the fact.

The Doctor Says...

Prompt Action Is Imperative If Blood Shows In Urine

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — — — Written for NEA Service

Mrs. R. K. asks if it is serious to pass blood in the urine. She says that her husband, who is 75, did some heavy lifting which might have caused it. Some people, she says, feel that this is not serious.

This letter raises an important question because far too many people tend to ignore the appearance of blood in the urine, especially since it is likely to be intermittent rather than continuous.

Actually, this should never be ignored, and even the matter of a month or two may mean the difference between life and death.

This symptom is not caused by a "strain" or a "cold," but some more serious condition is almost always present. It means that there is bleeding somewhere along the urinary passageways.

The blood may come from high up in one or both kidneys. Bleeding from the kidneys can result from an injury, a tumor, an inflammation, stones, and from other disorders within these organs.

Needless to say, anything which causes enough bleeding in the kidneys to be observed in the urine should be investigated promptly and completely.

Most such conditions can be treated successfully either by medical means or by surgery if they are discovered early enough. The great tragedy, however, is that when they have been allowed to exist for too long they often reach a stage in which successful treatment is no longer possible.

After leaving the kidneys, the urine passes down tubes known as ureters—one for each kidney. These tubes can be injured, can be pressed upon by tumors, or can be blocked by stones. Any of these may cause bleeding into the urine.

Below the ureters lies the bladder and especially in men other structures which can become diseased and cause blood to appear in the urine.

BWARE OF FALSE RELIEF
Blood may appear for a short time in the urine and then disappear, leading to a false sense of relief and security.

Specialists in this field maintain that this irregularity of bleeding is responsible for many tragic delays and that many of their problems are much worse because of the neglect.

To take warning from such a symptom as the appearance of blood in the urine is just common sense. Untold suffering and often death would be avoided if more attention was paid to this dangerous symptom and if it was not ignored as something of no importance.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Inside reason for the governmental exit of Stuart Symington, one of the best men to serve the Truman administration, is the soul-consuming jealousy of the White House staff.

It's also the reason why Clark Clifford, the best staff member Truman had, left the White House, and why it's difficult to get good men to work for the president these days.

The little band of mediocrities around the President just do not want brainer men than they are close to him. It shows up their own inadequacy. This little band of mediocrities is:

1. Matt Connelly, an ex-WPA investigator, and former Wall Street clerk, who, whenever he enjoys a convivial evening, reverts to type.

2. John Steelman, a former country schoolteacher, who tried to put the skids under his former boss, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, and made life insufferable for the late secretary of labor, Lew Schwellenbach. Steelman has wanted the balance of labor control to remain under him and is probably responsible for many of Truman's labor headaches.

3. Donald Dawson, who had his wife in the RFC, pulled wires to get RFC loans, and accepted hospitality from a Florida hotel which was applying for an RFC loan.

4. General Harry Vaughan of deep-freeze fame, who has made it his job to tell the president how badly the press abuses him. Reviewing the news, Vaughan remarks: "That sob-sister. . . Faker. . . Fore lies. . . New Deal whiner."

LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY

Symington's first troubles began when he was put in the highly important spot of chairman of the National Security Resources board, hitherto temporarily under Steelman. This made Symington senior adviser to the president on mobilization matters, with Steelman on the sidelines, a place John did not relish. So it was Steelman, who little by little began cutting Symington down to size, finally convinced Truman mobilization should be completely under Charles E. Wilson.

Later, when Symington was given the tough job of cleaning up the RFC, he fired, among others, Mrs. Donald Dawson, together with Dawson's close pal, Don Smith. Dawson had made Smith chief of RFC personnel which gave him a pipeline into the RFC on all jobs.

Naturally Symington's clean-up incurred more resentment from the White House mediocrities. "Little Lord Fauntleroy" was their sneering name for him. And they dropped hints that Symington, whose father-in-law, ex-Congressman Jim Wadsworth of New York, is Republican, was paying into GOP hands.

Tired of the sniping, Symington finally quit.

Not long ago, an old Senate friend of the president, worried over the corruption issue, remarked: "There's no use going to Harry and urging reform, because there's no one on the White House staff capable of following up and carrying through that reform. Since Clark Clifford's gone, Harry Truman's about as hard to reach as Joe Stalin."

This is what has happened to Truman's good intentions in trying to get Judge Tom Murphy to clean up corruption. There has been no follow-through, and has been none since Clark Clifford's departure.

Clifford's reason for getting out was also White House jealousy. Steelman made it his business to plant stories with the press that Clifford was responsible for various unpopular policies, while Matt Connelly made presidential appointments for politicians likely to knock Clifford's ideas down. Clifford had brains; and they didn't want brains too close to the president. So finally Clifford quit.

Note—Though General Vaughan's influence is usually on the side of the mediocrities, it should be noted in fairness that he has put across some good appointments. His recommendation of Jiggs Donohue to be District of Columbia commissioner, though opposed at first by local residents, has turned out to be one of the healthiest things happening to Washington, D. C. Likewise Milton Kronheim, Jr., for whom Vaughan helped get a police judgeship, has turned out to be an A-1 appointee.

Dulles' New Weapon: Punishing Power To Stop Red Aggression

By JOHN FOSTER DULLES

(Distributed by NEA Service)

"Can we stop Russian imperialism?"

The answer is: of course we can.

We must, in all honesty, admit that we are up against one of the most complicated tasks the world has ever known. First the Red Army. That is a grave threat.

But if we think only of that, we shall find that Communism is surging from the underground to seize power, as has already happened in nearly a score of countries. But if we think only of the revolutionary threat of the Communist Party, we may find other and bigger threats, where the weapon is open armed attack.

If we concentrate on Western Europe there will be happenings in Asia which will make us recall Stalin's slogan that Asia is "the road to victory over the West." But we dare not concentrate on Asia, for Soviet strategy can shift its efforts to whatever be the exposed areas.

Take the element of timing. We cannot assume that the climax of danger will be in 1952 or 1954 or some other date that we predetermine; for the Russian despotism of today operates on a flexible, long-range basis and has, itself, no yearly dates to meet.

Routine methods will never turn back a threat of such variety, of such scope and of such sustained suspense.

The Red Army is regularly maintained at about three million men, about 200 divisions, with ample numbers of planes, tanks and artillery. It is poised in a central area, with interior lines. It could strike suddenly, with massive power, east, south or west at any chosen point along the 25,000-mile boundary which runs from the Arctic, near Alaska, down by Japan, through East Asia and South Asia, along the Middle East to Turkey, Greece, Yugoslavia, and then up along Western Europe and Scandinavia to near its Arctic place of beginning.

But the United States cannot, by grants-in-aid, undertake permanently to raise the living standard of the thousands of millions throughout the world whom Communism seeks to exploit.

The area of freedom is already perilously shrunken through the capture by Russian imperialism of over one-third of the people and resources of the world. No more can be subtracted without endangering the happiness and security of the rest.

Take South America. President Monroe said to Russia in 1823 that it would be dangerous to our peace, safety and happiness if European despotism was extended to this hemisphere, and surely that is no less true now than then. The same can now be said of other areas whose cultures and religions differ from our own, but whose people contribute authentically and indispensably to a total world of freedom. Even in economic terms we are interdependent.

Take Africa. Its resources are a mainstay of Western Europe's economy and Africa contains the only known rich deposits of uranium which assure us, rather than Russia, atomic supremacy.

We can go from area to area, seeing how each part of the remaining free world is vital to the rest. The Soviet policy of encirclement is already so far advanced that we shall have to find more than a national, or hemispheric or Atlantic defense.

If we turn to the duration of bankruptcy everywhere.

At various places around the Soviet orbit, as in Western Europe, it is possible to create useful military strength and everywhere there should be enough strength to resist indirect aggression. But to attempt generally a policy of military containment along 25,000 miles, with the Russians having both an immense force and interior lines, would, I suppose, be impractical as a military matter; and surely it is impractical as an economic matter.

Take next the threat of indirect aggression. In every country of the world the Soviet Communist Party has its local affiliates try-our dedication, we see that the Soviet imperialism of today has set aside "an entire historical era" for the struggle. Stalin has taught his followers: "The object of this strategy is to gain time in order later to assume the offensive."

Take first the matter of defense against Red Army aggression. Obviously the ideal is a limitation of all armament so that, in the words of the joint British, French, United States proposal now before the United Nations Assembly, each nation's armament will be "adequate for defense but not for aggression." The hopes and prayers of all of us should go with that proposal.

But we cannot be blind to the stupendous difficulties in the way of achieving the wished for goal. Therefore, we should have a practical policy of defense for use if this United Nations proposal should fail.

There is such an alternative. Let the free nations combine to create a striking force of great power and then rely more and more upon the deterrent of that punishing power, and less and less upon a series of many local area defenses.

That means having, at whatever are the convenient places, the capacity to hit Russia's interior lines of communication with such disruptive power that its highly centralized despotic police state will fall apart.

Russian militarists will not invite that by sending the Red Army to capture other peoples' lands. It must, of course, also be made clear that that punishing power will never itself be an offensive threat or strike except in retaliation for open, unprovoked aggression. That philosophy of reliance on the deterrent of striking power was, indeed, basic to the North Atlantic Treaty, as Senator Vandenberg eloquently expounded in the Senate debate.

Community punishing power is what every civilized community relies on for the security of its residents. We do not post armed guards, for 24 hours a day, in every home and store. No community could afford that.

Today each of the free nations exposed to Red Army attack is like a householder who feels insecure unless he has, within his own home, enough visible strength to resist possible robbery. That is the kind of protection upon which nations have been in the habit of relying, because the society of nations has been primitive and unorganized. But the very magnitude of the Soviet threat now forces us to develop a modern type of protection.

The probability is, indeed, that for the last five years we have actually had that kind of protection, without fully realizing it. During this time, so far as local resistance was concerned, they could have picked up their two most coveted prizes, Germany and Japan. Something held them back.

The most reasonable explanation is that the rulers of Russia knew that if they indulged in this open aggression in any area of vital concern to the United States or which by treaty we were bound to defend, their sources and means of power in Russia would have been visited with incredible destruction. Thus, the free world has, I believe, been getting the security of deterrent striking power

Ruark Assails Gov. Talmadge

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—With a feeling composed more of awe for ignorance than of violent outrage, I recently read a long screed signed by Herman Talmadge, Georgia's governor. The gist was that television is undermining the Solid South by scheduling programs in which Negroes and whites are shown together in attitudes suggesting friendship rather than the imminence of rope and fiery cross.

Hummon, distinguished son of distinguished father, suggests that the South should boycott the sponsors of non-segregated programs. I just knew this was coming up when I saw the equally distinguished censor of Memphis, Tenn., chewing his figurative beard and rending his garments over the impossibility of inflicting censorship on TV at the source.

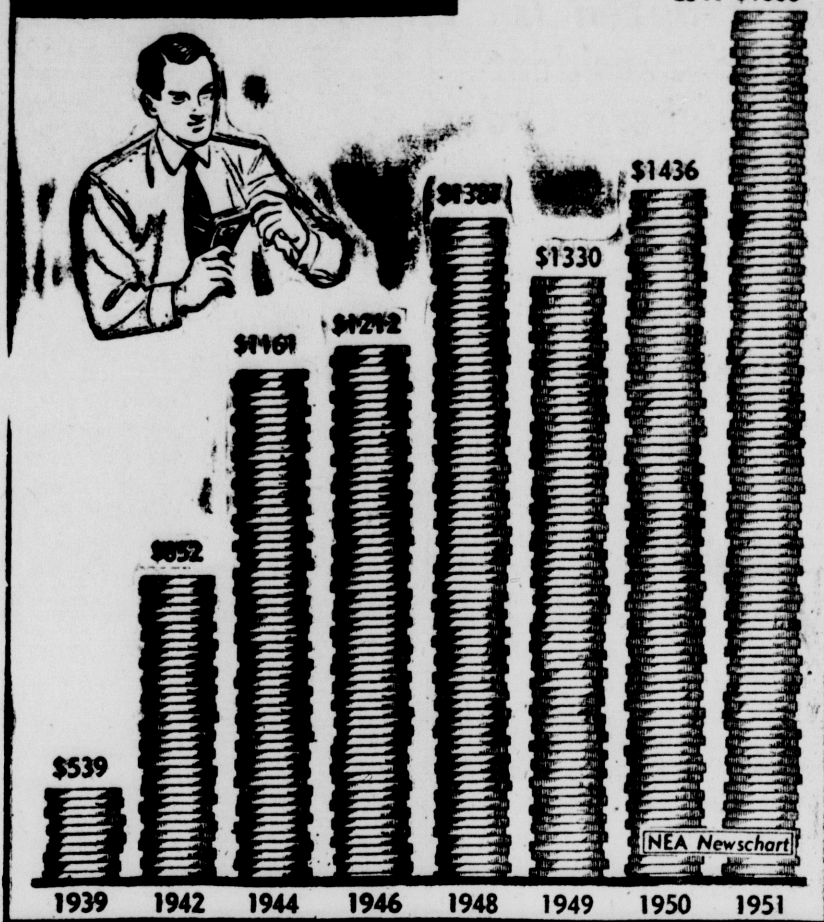

Gov. Talmadge, with an unerring instinct to stamp out a threat to Southern solidarity, chose the fact that the mariners on Arthur Godfrey's program, are composed of two white and two Negro singers. Horror of horrors, and heaven help us all, little white children and little black children actually danced together on Ken Murray's show. On a Clifton Fadiman show, a white woman and a Negro man literally talked together.

Ashamed At Utterances
"In the present situation," Hummon writes, "a Southerner must even turn off the dial and miss good shows or else must stand there and take these insults, sometimes writhing at the offensive situations which are thrust at him. Television," said Hummon, "is just about equivalent to visiting somebody in his home."

I guess I have been up north too long, and hence am badly equipped to qualify for membership in the Ku Kluxers, but I had mostly forgotten that we had southerners like Herman Talmadge. I have certainly been north too long to get indignant over him, and the likes of him, who can at best make you slightly ashamed of belonging to the same race. By race I mean human, if Herman qualifies for inclusion in it.

I suppose that the televised sight of little black children playing with little white children may wreck the digestion of a few people, yet, but the wreckage scarcely seems important any more. If Gov. Talmadge's friends are writhing as a result of what they see on TV, I would guess that they are writhing more at the quality of the entertainment than at the color of the entertainers. It is unfortunate that the majority of the country is so out of step with Herman Talmadge and the people who elected him that we cannot sit through a steady diet of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," with emphasis on the Simon Legree-blacksnake whip scene, which would doubtless be acceptable to Talmadge's cultural code.

PER CAPITA INCOME

Latest Commerce Department statistics reveal that each person in the U. S. should have more "dough" in his pocket this year than at any time since 1929. This, however, is theoretical, as it assumes that total annual income for the year would be divided equally among the total population. Above Newschart shows how per capita income has skyrocketed since 1939.

Stupidity Still Exists
But unfortunately for these few remaining troglodytes (troglodyte meaning savage who prefers to dwell in caves), so many people have gotten used to Joe Louis and Jackie Robinson and Lena Horne and Marian Anderson and Louis Armstrong and Dr. Ralph Bunche, in all their mediums, that I just don't see how we can remodel television to fit Herman Talmadge's delicate feelings.

He assured that this column is not written in anger, but merely in the mild amazement that such savage stupidity still exists in any considerable proportion in any semi-enlightened community. Poor old Herman's outburst is roughly comparable to stepping into the boss man's office and finding an ape playing the typewriter. Except you would expect the ape to make a little more sense.

I am not so distantly removed from the land of cotton that I fail to realize that the period of adjustment between black and white is still in progress, and that many a year will pass before it is satisfactorily solved. There will, for some time, be Herman Talmadge to match against the self-serving firebrands who unscrupulously endeavor to reshape a status quo in five minutes, to the general detriment of both sides.

In the meantime, I suppose I must apologize, as a Southerner, for Gov. Talmadge. We must bear, as in the case of subnormal child, with the few remaining vestiges of an ancient and barbaric culture that still exists in scattered clusters around the land. It is no good to punish them if you ignore them they will eventually go away and make faces at each other.

Lowdown On Your Congressman Given In New Directory

By ED CREAUGH
(For HAL BOYLE)

WASHINGTON—(AP)—So you know a thing or two about Congress? Then tell us:

(1) Which members of the present Congress have nine children apiece?

(2) How many members were born outside the United States?

(3) Which congressman has made a hole-in-one—not once, but twice?

(4) What congressman's wife has "Pocahontas" for a middle name?

You can find the answers to these and heaven knows how many other questions about your lawmakers in the new, 737-page edition of the congressional directory, now being distributed.

Solon Has 6 Sons
In case you can't wait, here are the official answers to the questions above:

(1) Reps. Rabaut (D-Mich) and Kelley (D-Pa) are the most persistent parents. Rabaut has three sons and six daughters, Kelley three daughters and six sons. No wonder there are so many Democrats around.

(2) Nine members were born outside the U. S., including Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., (D-NY), who first saw the light of day at his folks' summer place in New Brunswick, Canada.

and Mrs. Rudy Bittinger and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Smith. The Smiths and Bittingers are well known in the vicinity having spent many deer hunting seasons here.

Mrs. Clara Carver and grandson Dennis Brown have returned to their homes in Flint after visiting here at the home of Mrs. Carver's brother, Forrest Morrison.

Mrs. Russell Mark has returned home from Newberry where she was called by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Rose Griff. The condition of Mrs. Griff was reported as improving.

Mrs. Stanley Generou and small son, George Allen are spending some time in Adrian at the home of Mrs. Generou's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Erlinger.

Donald McInnis Sr. and brother Floyd are spending several days in Detroit on business. While in Detroit they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McInnis Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meister.

A meteor from outer space becomes a meteorite by surviving the friction of passage through the earth's atmosphere and reaching the ground.

(3) The golfing congressman who has made a hole-in-one twice is Rep. McMullen (D-Fla.).

(4) "Pocahontas" is the middle name of Mrs. Thomas Bahnson Stanley (D-Va.). Her maiden name was Anne Pocahontas Bassett.

This barely scratches the surface of the no-doubt fascinating facts that can be dug out of the blue-covered directory.

Inspiration Too
Did you know, for instance, that Rep. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) never went to high school—but became a history professor at Montana State University?

Or that Senator Langer (R-ND), by his own account, is the "only person ever arrested in any English-speaking country for filing an affidavit of prejudice against a judge."

Or that Rep. Fogarty (D-RI) is president of bricklayers union No. 1 in his native state? There's inspiration to be found, too, in the new directory.

You may think the time is past when a poor boy can grow up to make his country's laws—until you learn that Senator Hoey (D-NC) started out as a printer's devil. Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) was a grocery clerk, Senator Flinders (R-Vt.) was a machinist's apprentice, and Rep. Irving, a Democrat from President Truman's home town of Independence, Mo., was a railroad call boy at the age of 13.

McCarthy Is Brief

Without the directory, you might never know that Rep. Usher Burdick (R-ND) could make a speech in the Sioux language, if he wanted to, or that Rep. Zablocki (D-Wis) is an organist and choir director. Or that Rep. Dorn (D-NC) is "the only man in American history who, in less than 10 years, served in a state house, state senate, three and one-half years in the army, United States Congress, and made a strong race for the U. S. Senate."

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) contributed the longest autobiography to the directory—69 lines. Tied for the shortest accounts of themselves, on the Senate side, are two people who usually aren't that close together on anything: Senators McCarthy (R-Wis) and Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me). They limited themselves to less than three lines apiece.

Even they were wordy, however, compared with some house members. Four Congressmen said all they wanted to say about themselves in one line apiece. The briefest entry of all, by a man who can throw brevity to the winds when he gets up to make a speech: "Dewey Short, Republican, Galena, Mo."

Kalamazoo Man Praises O-Jib-Wa Bitters for Run Down Condition

The real test of a medicine is in its use, and the best judge its users. Thousands of Michigan people like Mr. John Canfield, 740 Delaware Ct., Kalamazoo, have tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS and have been so pleased with the results, that they are continually telling others, so that they too can gain from its benefits.

"I started taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS because I was tired and sleepy all the time, and suffered with arthritis in my ankles, feet and left arm. For 10 years I have been bothered with my feet, and have tried arch supports and even had my shoes built up, but I still suffered. Before taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I tried everything without any effect. Then, two months ago, I bought a bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and amazing as it may sound, the very first day, I felt relief. Now, my arthritis is all gone, and all pains and stiffness have left me. I eat better and feel real good. I really can't say enough in praise for O-JIB-WA BITTERS, for I used to come home and lay right down and go to sleep, but now I feel good after a day's work and enjoy working around the house. My wife also takes O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and is as great a booster for this fine medicine as I am." Insist on genuine O-JIB-WA BITTERS at your drug store.

J. Canfield tried everything without any effect.

Morton-Saul
Turin—Miss Wilma J. Morton, daughter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morton, and Pvt. Kenneth H. Saul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Saul, were married in a holiday season ceremony in Gwynn Methodist parsonage by the Rev. K. Caune. Both are residents of Turin.

Bridal attendants were Miss June Connors, cousin of the bridegroom, Mrs. Mark Morton, sister-in-law of the bride, Bertha Hansen and Mr. Morton.

The bride wore a royal blue street length dress with white accessories. A gold locket, the bridegroom's gift, and a corsage of pink roses and white mums completed her costume. Miss Connors wore medium blue with gray accessories and Mrs. Morton wore beige with white accents. Their corsages were pink roses and carnations and yellow roses and mums, respectively.

A buffet supper was served during the reception at the bridegroom's home. The three-tiered wedding cake with white tapers and cut flowers centered the table. Mrs. Milton Findlay of Gladstone, an aunt of the bride, poured and Gale Connors, a cousin, served the cake.

The bride is remaining temporarily in Turin. Her husband has been assigned to overseas service.

Mill Owners Feted Here

Three motives which impelled the Trenton Times Corporation to purchase the Manistique paper mill were outlined by John E. Kerney, corporation business manager, in an address to a large audience Wednesday evening at the Elks Temple.

Speaking at a banquet arranged in honor of the new mill owners by the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce, Kerney said that one basic reason for the transaction was his family's interest in the welfare of South American democracies.

His father, who died in 1934, was long interested in cementing better relations between the American continents, the speaker said, and this interest is being maintained by present owners of the Trenton Times firm.

He stressed the critical newsprint shortage faced by South American countries and the need for maintenance of a free press in those nations with democratic governments.

Good Market
"Purchase of the Manistique mill was one way we could give aid to South American papers," Kerney said, adding that no publication tonnage from Manistique will go to Argentina as long as Peron rules there.

Another reason, he said, was economic. Officials of the Trenton Times Corporation, he pointed out, believe that a good market for newsprint will continue in South America for a long time, and that the Manistique mill can be profitably operated at full capacity to help meet that need.

A final reason, the speaker said, was conditions at the local mill itself. "We found here an excellent physical plant in top operating condition, employees who were keen and avid, and experienced, competent management." He emphasized the point that R. G. Hentschell, who has directed the Manistique mill for many years, would be continued as general manager.

Kerney described the Trenton firm as a "family" business with his mother as president and his brothers and sisters in active ownership and control. The Manistique mill will be operated the same way, he said, with his mother as president, and his brothers and three sisters as officers and board members.

Herbert Toastmaster
J. Joseph Herbert, of Manistique, a regent of the University of Michigan, presided as toastmaster at the session.

Other talks were made by Dr. James H. Fyvie, mayor of Manistique, who officially welcomed the new mill owners to Manistique, and A. J. Cayia, president of the Inland Lime and Stone Company, who expressed welcome on behalf of Schoolcraft county industry.

Also introduced at the session were Thomas Palmer, Thomas Kerney and James Kerney Jr., of Trenton; R. G. Hentschell, local mill manager; Fred D. Heltman, acting secretary of the chamber of commerce; and Earl H. LeBrasseur and Clarence Peterson, presidents of the two unions at the paper mill.

Mill Resumes Former Name

The Manistique paper mill will again be known by its original firm name, Manistique Pulp and Paper Company, it was announced yesterday by R. G. Hentschell, plant manager, following a conference here this week with the plant's new owners.

The firm name was changed to Mead Corporation, Manistique Division, a few years ago following its acquisition by Mead.

The mill, originally constructed for newsprint production by the Minneapolis Tribune, will resume manufacture of publication tonnage on Thursday, Jan. 17, according to present plans, Hentschell said.

Since Jan. 1, when the Trenton Times Corporation took over direction of the mill, the plant has been filling unexpired Mead contracts.

New officers and directors of the mill have been announced as follows:

President, Mrs. James Kerney Sr.
Vice president, James Kerney Jr.

Treasurer, Thomas L. Kerney.
Assistant treasurer, John E. Kerney.

Secretary, Mrs. R. G. Kuser.
Assistant secretary and general manager, R. G. Hentschell.

Sales manager, Thomas Palmer.
Members of board of directors: Mrs. James Kerney Sr., James Kerney Jr., Thomas L. Kerney, Mrs. R. G. Kuser, John E. Kerney, Mrs. Henry Welling, Mrs. J. R. McNeil and Joseph A. Kerney.

Gang Saws, Which Cut Perfect Lumber, Chewed 25% Of Log To Sawdust

By W. S. CROWE

The heavy gang saws in the three mills at Manistique cut perfect lumber and lots of it, but in cutting 100 million feet of clear 1 x 12 WP boards they chewed another 25 million feet into sawdust. Band saws would have saved at least 10 million feet of that, worth $150,000.00 at the average mill run price of $15.00 per M prevailing in the 90's.

A local dealer told me he would have to get from $400.00 to $450.00 per M for clear 1 x 12 white pine today, at which price a season's cut of 100 million feet would be worth about 40 million dollars, and the gang saw waste would be worth four million dollars.

We criticized the old time lumbermen for "wasting" our resources, but wait a minute. How about the settlers in Pennsylvania and Ohio who cut the finest white oak, black, walnut, elm and birds eye maple trees, rolled the logs into piles and then burned them to clear the land? Just one single black walnut tree four feet in diameter, (they ranged from three to eight feet) would be worth over $400.00 today.

Timber Was Cheap
Now the Pennsylvania and Ohio farmers and the Michigan lumbermen were doing exactly the same thing. They were cutting trees and clearing land to build houses and make farms. The only difference was that the farmers built houses and made farms on the same fertile soil from which they cut the trees, while the Michigan lumbermen cut trees from sandy pine barrens to build houses and make farms in Illinois and Iowa.

In those days good farm lands were at a premium and timber was cheap because there was so much of it, (the old law of supply and demand working which I am told has now been repealed by OPA.).

But who are we to pretend how horror at the waste of a few millions by the "old timers," (who at least had the excuse of what looked like inexhaustible natural resources to work with), when we with the end of our natural resources in plain sight are wasting billions to their millions (1000 to 1) and even giving away our income and mortgaging our children's future at a rate unparalleled in all history.

Marvelous Local Cooks
The other day I ran across a cook book put out in 1906 by the Manistique Women's Society with enticing recipes for preparing all kinds of meats, roast duck with apple dressing, mushroom patties, planked whitefish, creamed sweetbreads, jellied veal loaf, ginger bread, angel cake, fairy sauce, plum pudding, apple mince, pumpkin, rhubarb, cherry pies, cheese sticks, omelets, fruit, lobster, chicken and potato salads, creamed cabbage, sponge cake, stuffed tomatoes, pickles, sugar cookies, macaroons, etc., etc., until my mouth watered so hard I had to stop.

These recipes were donated by the Mesdames George Orr, Middlebrook, C. B. Mersereau, Chas.

CARD OF THANKS
It is with a feeling of sincere gratitude that we take this means of expressing our deep appreciation and thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us at the time of the death of our beloved husband and father, Richard Dufour. We are very grateful to Rev. George Pernaski for his consoling words and other manifestations of sympathy, to those who served as pallbearers, to those who offered the use of their cars, those who sent flowers, and to all others who aided us in so many ways. Your kindness will always be held in grateful remembrance.

Signed:

Boards For Britain
Tom McCullough was "platform boss" at the C. L. Mill. When the lumber came from the mill proper, it was carried sideways by an endless chain over a wide, long, roofed "sorting table," where it was graded, sorted and then loaded onto tram cars on the "platform," (a floored space large enough to hold the night's run, 75 to 100 M feet) to be hauled out to the yards in the morning. Mr. Quick came along one day on his early morning round of inspection and McCullough pointed to the platform covered with tram cars loaded with clear white pine planks 2 x 24 and some even 3 x 36 inches wide and said, "There's something Mr. Quick that'll put a plug hat on you." "Stove pipe" hats were quite the thing and a symbol of wealth and distinction in those days. "M. H." smiled but said nothing. This was "tops" in grades and commanded a very high price, maybe as much as $40.00 or even $50.00 per M. I was told that a lot of it went to England for "patterns." Great Britain was then the dominant industrial nation with her big iron and steel plants in Birmingham, Manchester and "on the banks of the Clyde," although the United States was catching up fast.

Income Tax Primer

How To Figure Out Whether To Itemize Deductions

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the ninth of 13 authoritative, easy-to-follow articles in NEA's 11th annual Income Tax Primer.

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
NEA Special Correspondent

One question every taxpayer must answer carefully is this—should I itemize my deductions or should I use the deduction of about 10 per cent of my income which Uncle Sam offers to those who do not itemize deductions?

Once you know what your legal deductions are, your answer to the above question is simple. Use whichever choice gives you the greater deduction.

This and the next article tell what items can be deducted if you so choose. Read them carefully and you will know what your deductions are.

Remember, if you itemize deductions you must use Long Form 1040. If you use Form 1040A or Short Form 1040, the tax tables will automatically allow you a deduction of about 10 per cent of your income regardless of what your legal deductions are.

Contributions can be itemized in the first schedule on page 3 of Form 1040. You can claim as a contribution what you actually give in 1951 to recognized, non-profit religious, charitable, educational and scientific organizations; to societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals; and to governmental organizations for exclusively public purposes.

You cannot deduct dues paid to social organizations even though they have charitable or welfare subsidiaries to which gifts are deductible. You cannot deduct

Contributions Check List

Here is a list of some organizations to which contributions are deductible. There are many other organizations on the approved list. You can deduct what you gave during 1951, in money or the fair value of goods, up to a total that does not exceed 15% of Item 4, page 1 of Form 1040.

American Cancer Society
Boy Scouts
Christmas Seals

amount included in your payments. If you are buying on the installment plan, your sales contract must stipulate that interest is being paid or you cannot deduct any interest.

Many of the taxes you paid in 1951 can be deducted on page 3 of Form 1040 if you choose to itemize your deductions. To be deductible the tax must be imposed on you and paid by you. That means you cannot deduct taxes you pay on your mother's property.

Pages 13 and 14 of the official instructions list taxes which you can and cannot deduct.

Most taxpayers do not have receipts or do not keep a record of small payments for deductions like gasoline tax and sales tax. The Bureau of Internal Revenue will allow an estimated deduction provided it is reasonable.

The gasoline tax can be estimated by dividing the total number of miles driven in 1951 by the average number of miles your car operates on a gallon of gas. Then multiply this by the state and local tax per gallon. Your filling are not deductible.

Q. We bought a house, paying $2500 cash and have monthly payments of $100 per month for 20 years. Are any of the monthly payments deductible?

A. If you itemize your deductions, find out how much of your monthly payments in 1951 was for interest and how much was for taxes. These amounts can be deducted.

Q. The bill for my business dinner party was $60. This included $10 for entertainment tax. Can I deduct the $10 as a tax?

A. Federal entertainment tax is not deductible as a tax. However, if the party was necessary and ordinary in your business, you could deduct the entire $60 as an entertainment deduction in the miscellaneous schedule.

U. N. BUGLER LURES REDS WITH THE FIRST MARINE DIVISION IN KOREA—(AP)—A Marine bugler is luring Communists into U. N. traps.

At strategic moments, he blares the Chinese call for attack, which brings the enemy running straight into the muzzles of Leatherneck guns.

He learned the call, note for note, when his patrol surprised four enemy soldiers, and a Red bugler called for aid.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE
Default having been made in the condition of that certain mortgage dated the twenty-sixth day of May, 1950, executed by Kenneth Johnson and Iva Johnson, his wife, as mortgagors, to Lester F. Groll and Beatrice Groll, of Fayette, Michigan, as mortgagees, filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Delta County, Michigan, on the fourteenth day of June, 1950, recorded in Liber 73 of Mortgages on pages 68, 69, 70 thereof, and which mortgage was thereafter on the fifth day of November, 1951, by an instrument in writing, duly assigned to Chester F. Morehouse, of Mt. Morris, Michigan, and which assignment of mortgage was filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Delta County, Michigan, on the twenty-third day of November, 1951, recorded in Liber 76 of Mortgages on page 497.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that said mortgage will be foreclosed, pursuant to power of sale, and the premises therein described as:
Lot Seven (7), Section Twenty-eight (28), Township Forty-one (41) North, Range Twenty-one (21) West, excepting, however, that portion thereof described in deed from Iva Marie Johnson to John C. Wickham and Estella C. Wickham, which deed is recorded in the Register's Office for Delta County in Liber 135 of Deeds at page 241, and The Southwest Quarter (SW 1/4) of the Northeast Quarter (NE 1/4) of Section Twenty-eight (28), Township Forty-one (41) North, Range Twenty-one (21) West, lying within the Township of Masonville, County of Delta and State of Michigan, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash by the Sheriff of Delta County, at the front door of the courthouse in the City of Escanaba, in said County and State, on Tuesday, March 4th, 1952, at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon, Eastern Standard Time. There is due and payable at the date of this notice upon said debt secured by said mortgage, the sum of Five Thousand Three Hundred Seventy-eight and 47/100 ($5,378.47) Dollars.

Gladstone's Phil Creten got back in action for St. Norbert college the other night as his Green Knights dropped a 74-54 contest to Carroll college. Creten saw service at the center slot and contributed a field goal and a free throw to St. Norbert's scoring total. The former Gladstone high school star has been out of action with a bad knee.

We note that the Hawaiian All-Stars who put on a number of good performances against Upper Peninsula teams made a lot of friends in their Green Bay appearance Tuesday night. The Hawaiians played Noel's Aces, rated the top independent quint in the Green Bay area, and lost 62-60 after leading up to the final 20 seconds of the game.

A dandy preview of the class B district cage meet to be held March 6-7-8 at Menominee will be staged this weekend. Coach Steve Baltic's Eskymos invade Menominee tonight while Gladstone moves onto the Stephenson court. All four teams will tangle in the district tournament.

Escanaba's loss to Stephenson in a double overtime sudden death game was not the only upset Tuesday night. The Iron Mountain Mountaineers also were handed a surprise. The Norway Vikings provided the dopestiller by edging Iron Mountain 56-55. It was the first Menominee Range conference loss for the Mountaineers.

The Ironwood high school Red Devils are a victim of what is known in the sports world as the "Indian sign." Coach S. F. Coedde's cagers just can't seem to get a win over the Hurley Midgets. Ironwood has been on the short end of every game between the two schools since the first tilt in the 1948-49 season. When they meet tonight at Ironwood the Red Devils will be trying to halt the five game streak.

Leno Pieropon, former Hermansville athletic star, is slated for action against the Upper Peninsula's Michigan Tech cage team Saturday night when the Huskies play Ferris Institute in lower Michigan. Pieropon is a second-year guard on the Ferris Bulldog squad.

Two More Big Leaguers Called By Marine Corps

NEW YORK — (AP)—The Marines are landing—on major league baseball players—and how many more athletes holding commissions may be called back into the armed services was a question only Washington and the Pentagon could answer today.

Twenty-four hours after the Boston Red Sox were rocked by the announcement Ted Williams had been recalled to the Marine Air Corps, infielder Gerry Coleman of the world champion New York Yankees and outfielder Lloyd Merriman of the Cincinnati Reds received similar greetings.

The Marine spokesman said "only three or four" of those being recalled are well known in the sports world.

Then, from San Francisco, came the orders yesterday for Coleman and Merriman to get ready. All three are under orders to report for physical examinations April 2, and if found fit, they face at

Gordie Howe Is New Ice Leader

(By The Associated Press) Gordie Howe today held the National Hockey league scoring lead—but he had to send two tallies into the net against the New York Rangers to move to the front.

Howe and his league-leading Detroit Red Wings stamped on the Rangers in the only game scheduled last night, 5-2. The goals were his 21st and 22nd of the campaign, putting him one-up on the idle Maurice (Rocket) Richard of the Montreal Canadiens.

The two scores also boosted Howe's season total to 37 points, putting him in a tie with Elmer Lach of Montreal.

New York goalie Chuck Rayner, who seemed to have the Wings' number having blanked them the last two times out, couldn't cope with the barrage last night. Still, the Wings had to come from behind to score the victory.

After the Rangers went ahead, 1-0, in the first period, the Wings tied it. In the second, Sid Abel beat Rayner and the Wings were ahead for good.

Spartans Travel To Minneapolis

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(AP)—Michigan State's strong basketball team meets Minnesota at Minneapolis Saturday night in a game that will indicate which way the two teams are heading in the Western conference race.

Michigan State lost to Iowa and beat Northwestern in its first two Big Ten games. Minnesota was beaten by Illinois in its only conference clash.

The team that loses Saturday night might just as well forget about any hopes for a Western conference championship.

Minnesota will go into the game with a 5-4 won and lost record including a 61-57 upset of powerful Kentucky. Michigan State has won eight and lost one. The wins include a 66-62 walloping of Notre Dame.

NCAA Posts Notice It Is Alive And Kicking

CINCINNATI — (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic association insisted it was still alive and kicking today while some of its best friends were busy burying the corpse.

The some 250 delegates moved into the general business session with only a polite nod in the direction of a committee of college presidents who are demanding a drastic 10-point program of de-emphasis.

The group tackled a series of rather mild resolutions concerning continuance of controlled football television, new enforcement machinery, curtailed spring football practice and a year's study of Bowl games.

Tony Stars As Portage Lake Tops Marquette

MARQUETTE, Mich.—(AP)—The Upper Peninsula's "Mr. Hockey" had quite a night for himself here last night.

Tony Bukovich, probably the best and most-hated player in the Northern Michigan league, scored three goals and assisted on six others as Portage Lake came from behind to defeat Marquette for a second time this season, 11-9.

The league-leading Pioneers, three scores in back at the end of the first and second periods, blasted eight goals home in the third. Bukovich taking the puck in and setting up the plays on all but two. Three of Portage Lake's scores, which sent the visitors ahead for the first time, came with Marquette a man short.

Besides Tony Bukovich, four other players scored the three-goal "hat trick." Jack Ruelle and Joe Bukovich did it for the Houghton-Hancock sextet, while Jim Eady and Julian Vanoverloop hit three times for Marquette.

Although the Marquette Sentinels are in third place behind Portage Lake and Calumet, they continue to draw the biggest crowds in the league. Last night's paid attendance of 1,610 was the biggest in two years.

Illinois Faces Michigan Quint

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—Unbeaten Illinois, favorite of the Western conference basketball campaign, turns its height and scoring punch against struggling Michigan here Saturday night.

With two straight league victories under its belt and nine consecutive wins this season, Illinois ranked number two in the nation by the AP, is favored to hand Michigan its third Big Ten setback in three tries and a seventh loss in 10 games.

Illini Coach Harry Combes' squad is a big one built around a pair of giants who alternate at center—six-foot, nine inch John Kerr and six-foot, eight inch Bob Peterson.

Bemoras His Often

Kerr, who is second high scorer on the Illini squad, just a notch ahead of Peterson, rates the starting call. The number one punch has been delivered most often by junior forward Irv Bemoras, six foot, three and a half inch dead-eye.

Kerr, Bemoras, forward Clive Follmer and guards Jim Bredar and Rod Fletcher flipped seven non-conference foes this season and then took Minnesota and Wisconsin to launch the Big Ten campaign they hope will bring the second straight championship to Illinois.

Michigan, functioning around veterans forward Jim Skala, center Dick Williams and guard Doug Lawrence, managed to win only three of seven non-loop contests.

ed by the presidents calling for abolition of all Bowl and post-season games, strict limitations on playing and practice sessions and sharp controls on the subsidization of athletes.

Some of these matters could be brought up—fresh—from the floor, however, and conceivably that might happen before tomorrow's adjournment.

Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State College, and Dr. Arthur Adams, president of the American Council of Education, presented the presidents' committee report to the NCAA executive council yesterday.

When they were through, there was great confusion about who will be running the nation's athletic policies during the next few years—the presidents or the NCAA.

Committee Going Ahead

Hannah said in a press conference afterwards that his committee is going right ahead and making its recommendations to the executive council of the American council of Education.

If adopted, he said, the rules will be enforced through the regional accrediting agencies. An institution failing to comply might face loss of accreditation.

Should the presidents' proposals become law, the NCAA would be left only a shell of its once potent self. The American council on Education then would be setting the policy and enforcing it. The NCAA wouldn't, un-

Hawks Hold Final Workout Tonight

The Escanaba Hawks will sharpen up their puck game in a final practice session tonight from 7:30 to 9:30 in preparation for their "rubber" game with the Marquette Sentinels here Sunday afternoon.

The Hawks and the Sentinels have split in two meetings to date, Marquette winning at the Palestra and Escanaba winning at the fairgrounds here. Face-off Sunday will be at 2:30 and the largest crowd of the young season is expected.

Following the Hawk practice tonight the Junior Hawks will take over the rink from 9:30 to 10:30 under the supervision of the older players.

Defending Champions Leading In Bonspiel

DETROIT — (AP)—Lloyd Ranney's MacIntyre rink of Timmins, Ont., took both its opening round matches to move undefeated today into the third round of the 18th International Bonspiel.

Ranney's rink defeated Sinclair rink from Milwaukee, Wis., 10-7 last night following an earlier win over Detroit Curling club, 9-7.

Other second round victors included Chisholm, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., 9-7 over Graham, Toronto; Mackenzie, Detroit, 12-8 over Chatham, Ont.; Michel, Milwaukee, 10-4 over Power, Detroit; Andy Phippen, Sarnia, Ont., 14-11 over Brown, Chicago.

Perkins Downs Hermansville By 65 To 61 Score

PERKINS—Buckets were a dime a dozen here last night as Coach Tom Gerovac's Perkins cagers nipped Hermansville 65-61 in a high scoring clash.

The team totals were the highest for both quints this season as the torrid basket-pace continued from the opening tipoff to the final whistle.

Coach Bob Tacker's Hermansville Redskins fell behind by a single point in the first period which ended 17-16. Hermansville continued to hit the mark in the second frame with Schultz peppering them in from outside and the Redskins led 30-27 at the half.

High Peak

Perkins reached its peak production in the third and fourth quarters to overcome the deficit and squeak out the win in the final period. At the three quarter mark Hermansville's lead was carved to 48-46. Nineteen points in the fourth quarter paid off for Perkins' fourth win this season. Coach Gerovac's quint has lost five.

For Hermansville it was the sixth loss against a pair of wins.

The Hermansville seventh and eighth grade quint won a 42-33 preliminary clash.

Braves Try To Halt Cage Losing Streak

GLADSTONE — Coach Eldon Keil's Gladstone Braves will be out to halt a four-game losing streak tonight at Stephenson.

The Braves have lost successive starts to Escanaba, Manistique, Manistique and St. Joe after winning their opener from Bark River.

The host Eagles broke into the win column for the first time this week by defeating Escanaba in a double overtime.

Esky At Menominee Tonight In District Tournament Preview

The Escanaba Eskymos will be trying to get back on the victory trail tonight when they travel to Menominee to meet the Maroons in their first clash of the season at 8:15 (CST).

Escanaba suffered its second setback of the season this week by dropping a 45-43 double overtime tilt to the Stephenson Eagles. Only previous defeat for the Eskymos was to Ishpeming by a 53-38 score. Escanaba wins have been carded over Marquette, Iron Mountain and Gladstone.

Coach Steve Baltic announced this morning he will use his same starters against Menominee. That will put Paul Gunderman and John Peterson at forwards, Paul Baldwin at center, Jim Heiden and JoJo Johnston or Tom Smith at guards.

Joe Perrault Hurt In Jump

WESTBY, Wis.—(AP)—A Michigan skier is believed lost to the United States Olympic ski team.

Joe Perrault of Ishpeming fell at the Snowflake Ski club slide here yesterday and suffered a crushed cervical vertebra and two cracked ribs.

Another Olympic team member, Keith Wegeman of Denver, said a doctor told him Perrault "undoubtedly" would be unable to compete in the Olympic Winter games at Oslo, Norway, next month.

Wegeman quoted the physician as saying Perrault would be in a cast for some time and might not be able to ski at all this year. The Ishpeming rider was hospitalized at nearby Viroqua.

Perrault, Wegeman, Ralph Bitella of Ishpeming and Billy Olson of Eau Claire, Wis., had been practicing here and intended to join other U. S. team members in New York before leaving by air for Oslo Feb. 22.

Bing Crosby Open Golf Tournament Gets Under Way

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif.—(AP)—Stars of stage, screen, baseball, and the game of golf begin play today in Bing Crosby's $10,000 pro-amateur golfing meet.

The 54-hole, three-day tourney has 172 entries.

Two-man pro-amateur teams open play over Cypress Point. Band leader Phil Harris teamed with veteran E. J. "Dutch" Harrison to win last year.

With the exception of 10 professionals who qualified Wednesday, the meet is entirely invitational. And all proceeds go to charity. Groaner Crosby foots all expenses.

and Coach Baltic has been hammering alertness in floor play. Mental lapses put the Eskymos in trouble several times in their last outing.

In the Maroons, Escanaba will be facing a quint with five wins and two losses. Menominee wins were posted over Stephenson, Lourdes, Manistique, Kingsford and Oconto. Losses were to Kingsford and Clintonville.

Maroon Coach Bob Noonan's cagers were out last against Oconto to last Saturday night. Menominee trailed 28-26 at halftime but came back strong in the second half to beat the Oconto quint 57-42.

High scoring threats on the Maroon quint are John Moerchen and Loren Wall. Wall was ejected from the Oconto game for fighting in the second period and tallied only two points, but Moerchen registered 20 for high point honors.

The 10-man Eskymo traveling squad leaves this afternoon for Menominee accompanied by the Escanaba Bee team which will play the preliminary at 6:30 (CST).

The game will be a preview of the district class B tournament which will be held at Menominee in March. The Maroons, Escanaba, Gladstone and Stephenson will tangle in the tourney.

Milwaukee Hawks To Meet Baltimore Bullets Monday Night At Negaunee Court

NEGAUNEE, Mich.—It's the Milwaukee Hawks vs. the Baltimore Bullets in Negaunee's Memorial gym Monday, Jan. 14 in a regularly scheduled National Basketball Association league game.

Detroit Tech Hits 119 For New Record

DETROIT—(AP)—Detroit Tech set a brand new school basketball scoring record last night in swamping Cleary Business College of Ypsilanti by a score of 119-to-22.

Tech sank 50 field goals and had eight players who got more than 10 points.

Tech's previous scoring record of 85 points was made in 1949 against Tiffin (O.) University.

Don Mussio a forward, accounted for half of Cleary's 22 points, getting seven of his 11 on free throws.

Two-thirds of the gym seating has been used for reserved seats with the remaining one-third to be placed on sale as general admission. Some reserved seats are still available. Doors will open at 6:15 EST with a preliminary game slated for 7:15. The main event is scheduled for 8.

The Milwaukee Hawks and Baltimore Bullets are scheduled to leave Milwaukee aboard a chartered Continental Airlines plane at 3:30. They will be met at Sawyer Field by a Northland bus and transported to Negaunee.

On board the plane with the Hawks will be Bruce Stengel, national champion baton twirler who will entertain at halftime. Bruce is returning by popular request, the fans at the All Star football game being so impressed by his performance that hundreds of requests have been made to the committee for a return appearance.

Names of the officials are not available as assignments are made by the league office and are not announced in advance.

from a stomach illness and leg injury and will most likely open at the center spot. Probably at forwards the Hawks will start Rehfeld and Hutchins with Eddleman and O'Shea at guards.

The Hawks will be the home team.

That the game interest is wide spread is evidenced by the fact that several Upper Peninsula high schools have made reservations for their basketball teams while mail orders are being received from all parts of the Peninsula.

Tickets will be available through Monday as long as tickets remain unsold at Northland Lines and Pickands Coal in Ishpeming, Richards Sport Shop in Marquette, Millers News and the Sivula Agency in Negaunee, Mussatto Garage in Gwinn.

Mail orders will be accepted at the Recreation Office City Hall Negaunee. All mail orders must be accompanied by money order, and stamped self addressed envelope. No unpaid tickets will be held.

Young Swimmer To Make Debut For Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — A phenomenal youngster from Detroit will make his home college debut here Saturday night as Michigan opens the 1952 swimming season against Northwestern.

High interest will be centered in Burwell (Bumpy) Jones, 18-year-old sophomore whose versatility is denoted by the simple program listing, "all strokes."

Matt Mann, newly selected U. S. Olympic swimming coach, launching his 27th season here, planned to use the former Redford high school prep star primarily in the backstroke. However, he is prepared to put Jones into any of the freestyle events from 50 to 440 yards or anywhere else he is needed.

Jones holds five of the seven Detroit City individual records and the American medley relay record of 3:52.2 and last summer won a National AAU championship

Other Stars
However, Jones is not the only member of the Wolverine squad. Mann says this is one of the strongest teams of his Michigan career.

With 11 lettermen back, headed by co-captains John Davies and Stew Elliott, both Western conference breaststroke champions, the Michigan coach counts better balance and greater all-around depth.

A newcomer group composed of freshmen Ron Gora and Jim McKevitt and sophomores Don Hill and Tom Benner is figured as a tough freestyle corps which Mann hopes may break the 400-yard record of 3:21.8 held by Yale.

Two new divers, Jim Walters and Chuck Bates, both freshmen, figure to add strength to the diving contingent headed by veterans Jack Hosbein and John Hanrahan.

Pre-meet estimates are high for Mann's 27th squad. However, Ohio State and Michigan State, which finished ahead of Michigan in the Western conference meet last year, are also rated improved.

girl for several days at a place in the county.

The case of the girl, over whom the parents have little or no control, according to reports, is being turned over to the juvenile court for disposition.

Not only is Deneau in trouble with local authorities but he appears to be in "dutch" with Army authorities. A check up made by Michigan State Police with army authorities at Fort Lucas, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., reveals that he is absent without leave from Camp Custer. Deneau is said to have left the camp on pass 15 or 20 days ago and failed to return.

Capt. Handy, Fort Lucas, is forwarding a "hold" order on Deneau and army authorities will pick him up when his sentence is served.

Tests Show Ice Supply Is Safe

Information circulated locally that ice distributed by the Lierman Lee Co., was unsafe for human consumption was yesterday branded as false and entirely unfounded by Miss Flora LaRoche, city water analyst.

Within the past week a number of local business establishments have been advised by a representative of the Delta-Memnominee Health Unit that ice distributed by Lierman was contaminated and unsafe, Miss LaRoche stated.

Routine tests made by the city water analyst show this information to be false and that the ice when melted is safe and drinkable, Miss LaRoche states.

The city water analyst is entirely responsible for keeping the water supply of the city pure and safe for human use and in this is assisted by members of the water pumping plant where injections of chlorine are made.

Miss LaRoche said that in any case of pollution, either of water or ice, the public will be immediately advised.

A new laboratory has been set up in the city hall and Miss LaRoche invites anyone interested in learning what is done to check the safety of water and ice supplies to stop at the city hall at any convenient time.

Sgt. William Bryan has left for Fort Custer, Battle Creek, where he will await re-assignment, following a 40 day furlough spent visiting with his wife and daughter and other relatives.

In every phase of bowling, the best results can be obtained from efforts that are natural and easy.

I take my stance with both feet flat on the floor, my left slightly ahead of the right.

You may prefer to keep the feet together, however, and if that is comfortable, keep them together, by all means.

The knees are slightly flexed. This avoids tension and helps you acquire relaxation.

The elbows are in at the sides, the shoulders back.

My hips and shoulders are squared away with the foul line and pins. This is important for any habit of pointing the hips and shoulders down the alley at an angle will probably result in your delivering the ball at the foul line at a similar angle.

I hold the ball about waist high in front of me with both hands under the ball.

It is permissible, however, to hold the ball as high as your shoulders if such a position makes you feel more relaxed.

I stand erect, but bending forward slightly at the waist is a fine method for releasing tension, and you may prefer it.

Experiment to find the best possible stance for yourself.

I didn't adopt any particular style of bowling merely by watching or listening to others. I tried various methods until I found the one that suited me.

I suggest you try the same.

Michigan State College President To Abide By Presidents' Proposals

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Michigan State College President John Hannah has put his school solidly behind the college presidents' 10-point program for stabilizing athletics regardless of what action the NCAA takes.

Hannah is chairman of the American Council on Education President's committee on athletics. After a conference with NCAA officials here yesterday, Dr. Hannah said there would be no compromise and made it plain the drastic program would be followed by Michigan State which boasted of the nation's No. 2 football team this year.

Dr. Hannah said:

Statement
"Our presidents' committee report will be submitted to the executive committee of the American Council on Education. When it is approved at that level then it will become the guiding authority for the conduct of athletics at Michigan State. That becomes effective regardless of what the ultimate reception and reaction of our proposals may be by the NCAA."

At Ann Arbor, President Harlan H. Hatcher of the University of Michigan, said he could not say what Michigan's stand would be until he saw the full text of the proposals.

"I'm not in a position yet to say what we will do here," Hatcher said. He added, "I would like to make a statement after I see the fine print."

The college presidents' recommendations include such drastic steps as elimination of athletic

Michigan Hockey Team Plays Host To Minnesota Six

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Michigan, the Midwest Collegiate Hockey league's second team, meets winless Minnesota here tonight in the first of a two game series.

The Wolverines, with a 3-2 league record, trail league-leading Denver by two games. The Westerners have won five of six league games.

Michigan meets Minnesota, defeated in each of three league starts, again Saturday night but only the Friday night game counts in the league standings.

Denver, meanwhile, plays host to Colorado College Friday night. A Denver win would nullify a Wolverine victory here. But a Michigan victory and a Denver loss would move Michigan to within one game of the pacesetters.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH S. FULLERTON Jr.
CINCINNATI—(AP)—The sports section of the American College Public Relations association (slang for the drum-beaters) is holding a meeting here this week in connection with the NCAA convention. . . Your correspondent dropped in yesterday and asked: "How about a few notes, youse guys?" . . . Here are the results.

LOOKING FOR NO. 1

Joe Sherman of Florida, head of the outfit, gets the top spot with this yarn. . . When Florida played Clemson in basketball recently, Joe really was on the spot. . . He publicized Clemson athletics for 13 years before he went further South and Aggie McFadden, wife of the Clemson coach, posed this question: "Joe, be truthful now, way down deep, do you want Clemson or Florida to win?" . . . Sherman, reflectively considering the grocery bill, replied: "Aggie, if you're down as deep as the bread-basket, there's only one answer." . . . Incidentally, Florida won it and continued Joe's supply of bread.

CHARMED, I'M SURE

Another Clemson item: . . . While the football team from the agricultural college of South Carolina was building a long winning streak, Coach Frank Howard accumulated the gosh-darned lot of good luck charms you ever saw. . . Among other things, Frank had a "lucky" shirt which he wore at every game for about three years. . . Finally in the Gator Bowl New Year's Day, Clemson lost to Miami. . . Howard came into his hotel room afterward, ripped off the thread-bare shirt without bothering to loosen the buttons, heaved the luck charms into the waste basket and shouted: "To H--- with this stuff. From now on we're going to rely on blocking and tackling."

ODDS AND ENDS

The Hofstra college basketball tournament during the Christmas holidays actually made a little money despite a seating capacity of about 1,200 at the Hofstra gym. The eight "small" colleges will split the dough remaining after a $2,400 "nut" was covered. . . In six bowl games, Texas Tech (which must be over-emphasized to get into that many) never has managed to make more than one point-after-touchdown in any game. This year Tech had Punk Whitaker, who ranked sixth among the nation's converters, and still could get only one in a 25-14 win over College of the Pacific. . . Western Michigan College, whose athletic history goes back to 1906, never has fired a coach. . . And Hardin-Simmons U., whose four top officials, including the prexy, are former football players, has an even better record. It never has had an organized attempt by any group to fire a coach.

DOTS AND DASHES

Dayton U. tub thumper Pepper Wilson, who hung the "vertical hyphen" nickname on tall Johnny Horan, adds: "The Vertical Hyphen now has polka dots." Horan broke out with chicken pox yesterday. . . And, not to be attributed to any publicity man, an embittered athletic director let loose with this comment on the college prexies' report: "A college president is a guy who is too dumb to be a professor and too lazy to be a dean."
